Dear [Redacted]

Subject: Employment

STAT

Following up our conversation in Hong Kong, I have looked into the question of your continued employment. We would indeed be pleased to have you continue working as an editor here after your return from Hong Kong, on a full-time basis.

It would appear that the best procedure is to continue your full-time contract until you are on duty here. We can at that time consider converting you to full-time Staff, but that will depend on how long it appears you will be in Washington and what your husband's assignment will be.

It was nice talking with you in Hong Kong. Let me know by message when you get further information about your travel plans or your husband's assignment.

Sincerely,
